

ACTED ON WORD OF HIS MOTHER

Details Of Tragedy At Sterling Which Cost Harvey Conaway His Life.

BOY THOUGHT HIM A BURGLAR

Fourteen Year Old Charlie Herrick Was So Persuaded, And His Aim Was Only Too True.

Sterling, Ill., Aug. 7.—Harvey Conaway, a well-known contractor and politician of Coleta, Whiteside county, was shot and instantly killed Sunday morning at 12:30 o'clock by Charles Herrick, 14 years of age. The shooting is of a peculiar nature and has caused tremendous excitement in the county.

Sunday morning at about 12 o'clock or later Mr. Conaway went to the ice house of Hugh Shannon, in Coleta, and in company with William Geesey secured a cake of ice. Mrs. W. H. Herrick, who lives in a flat twenty feet from the ice house, imagined that robbers were entering or leaving the Shannon store, and, securing a double-barreled shotgun she gave it to her son and advised him to shoot at the intruder, but told him to aim low.

Boy's Aim Is True. The boy shot, discharging the contents of both barrels in the back of Conaway on the right side, boring a hole through five ribs and tearing the lung and liver. Conaway fell forward with a cry and in an instant was dead. Five hours after the shooting Mrs. Herrick was notified of the result and

ON RIGHTEOUSNESS SEVEN DAYS A WEEK

President Roosevelt Urges Charity in Judging the Brother Who Strives for a Decent Life.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 7.—President Roosevelt Sunday afternoon delivered a lay sermon to the Christian brotherhood of Oyster Bay. He emphasized especially the necessity of sound character building, holding that high moral character was the real essence of Christian life.

The meeting was held in the Sunday school room of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which the Rev. E. V. Bowman is pastor.

The president promised several weeks ago to make an address, providing no previous announcement was made of the fact. At the outset the president declared the progress of the country represented the sum of individual effort and that an organized campaign for good more than offset the influences of evil.

Seek to Apply Christianity. "I want to read several different texts," he said, "which have especial bearing upon the work of brotherhoods like this, upon the spirit in which not only all of us who are members of this brotherhood, but all of us who strive to be decent Christians, are to apply our Christianity on week days as well as on Sundays."

"The first verses I want to read can be found in the seventh chapter of Matthew, the first, sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth verses: 'First—Judge not that ye be not judged.'

"Sixteenth—'Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles?'

"Seventeenth—'Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.'

"Eighteenth—'A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.'

Judge Us by Our Fruits.

"Judge not that ye be not judged—that means treat each of his brothers with charity. Be not quick to find fault. Above all be not to judge another man, who according to his light, is striving to do his duty as each of us here hopes he is striving to do his. Let us ever remember that not only we have divine authority for the statement that by our fruits we shall be known but that also it is true that mankind will tend to judge us by our fruits.

Religion Driving Force. "The next quotation I wish to read to you is found in the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew, thirty-seventh to fourtieth verses, inclusive:

"Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered and fed thee? When saw we thee a stranger and took thee in, or naked and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick or in prison and came unto thee? And the king shall answer and say unto them, verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

The next text I wish to read is found in First Corinthians, thirteenth chapter, beginning with the first verse:

Charity Is Essential.

"Though I speak with the tongues

France—But, M. le Kaiser, som e one else may, but I have not ze grand ambition to remove ze footwear.

TWO-WHEELED AUTO MEN IN CONVENTION

Owners of Motor Cycles From All Over World Are Assembling at Waltham.

Waltham, Mass., August 7.—One of the largest meets of motor cyclists ever held in this country opened here today and will continue until next Saturday. Cycle clubs from England, France, Germany and Belgium are represented. Tours will be made of various points of interest in New England after the road and obstruction races, which are the principal features of the meet.

STATE RECEPTION FOR TAFT PARTY

To Be Given in Manila Tonight by Governor General and Mrs. Luke Wright.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Manila, P. I., August 7.—Secretary of War Taft, Miss Alice Roosevelt and other members of the Congressional party visiting the Philippine Islands will be tendered a state reception tonight by Governor General and Mrs. Luke Wright. All official society and a number of distinguished native citizens have been invited to meet the Americans.

SEERS OF ANATOMY IN SWITZERLAND

Guardians of the Human Temple Gather at Geneva for Three Days' Conference.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Geneva, Switzerland, August 7.—Upon the invitation of prominent anatomists of Swiss universities, scientists from Germany, England, France, Italy and America met here today for a three day's conference to establish an International Association of Anatomists.

CHEAP DWELLINGS A QUESTION AT ISSUE

Before an International Congress Gathered at Liege, Belgium—United States Represented.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Liege, Belgium, August 7.—The Seventh International Congress on cheap dwellings, opened here today. The United States is represented by two delegates upon the invitation of the Belgian government.

Nourishment of the Moth.

A father who is fond of putting his boys through natural history examinations is often surprised by their mental agility. He lately asked them to tell him "what animal is satisfied with the least amount of nourishment." "The moth," one of them shouted, confidently. "It eats nothing but holes."—Youth's Companion.

Buy it in Janesville.

TENNIS TOURNEY ON IN MASSACHUSETTS

The Contest for the Easter Championship Began at Longwood Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Longwood, Mass., August 7.—Play in the fifteenth annual lawn tennis tournament for the Easter championship began on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club today under the auspices of the National Lawn Tennis Association. A handicap contest open to players who actually take part in the scratch singles will be held in place of the usual consolation singles. The tournament was delayed this year to give opportunity for the members of the United States team which went to England to play for the Davis Cup to return and appear in the contest.

AMATEUR GOLFERS ON WHEATON LINKS

Prominent Players from Far and Near Assemble for the Big Tournament.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Chicago, Ill., August 7.—All the well-known amateur golf champions of the country are here for the national tournament of the United States Golf Association which will be held over the Wheaton Links this week, starting today. This year the tournaments consist of two eighteen-hole medal rounds on successive days, the thirty-six players having best totals for the thirty-six holes continuing on the next three days in 18-hole rounds. The finals are to be at 36-holes. This is the second time the tournament has been held over the Wheaton Links, the first time having taken place in September, 1897, when Whigham won his second championship.

GROCERS' WOES TO BE DISCUSSED

At a Convention Called at Syracuse Today—One Is Manufacturer Who Sells Direct.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Syracuse, N. Y., August 7.—The annual convention of the New York retail grocers opened here today and will continue two days. The attitude of the wholesale grocers on the question of the manufacturer setting to the retailer will come up prominently for discussion. It is understood that the sentiment of retailers all over the country is not in favor of the boycotting of manufacturers.

Mythical Healing Qualities.

Many plants acquired a reputation for healing merely from their shape or from some peculiar mark upon them. Thus the wood sorrel, which has a heart-shaped leaf, was used in cordial; dragonwort was supposed to counteract snake bite, on account of its speckled appearance. The yellow juice of the celandine caused it to be recommended for jaundice upon the principle that "like cures like."

Taking Sunset Pictures. The reason for the failure of many sunset pictures lies in the difficulty of realizing how exceedingly different colors appear in photographic pictures. A good plan is to look at sunset views through a pair of blue glasses before exposing. This will give a more accurate view of the value of the color.

IN PRAYER FOR AN ARCHBISHOP

Catholics Offer Supplications For Recovery Of Mgr. Chapelle From Fever.

THE SITUATION AT NEW ORLEANS

Merchants Guarantee Sufficient Funds To Have The City Placed In A Sanitary Condition.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIBNER'S]

New Orleans, August 7.—Two deaths and two new cases were reported up to ten this morning. Lawrence Carey, a prominent politician, is one of the stricken. Many country towns refuse to receive mail and it is being returned to the places of mailing.

Dr. White in Charge.

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—Dr. White, of the Marine Hospital Service, assumed charge of the yellow fever situation with police power today. Citizens have placed seventy thousand hands, white, in readiness and have promised a quarter of a million when needed. Archbishop Chappelle is very ill today.

Fined for False Reports.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 7.—The captain commanding the Winona sent a telegram today saying that the action of seizing several vessels and sending into quarantine had been sustained. Two citizens were fined fifty dollars each this morning for spreading false reports about the fever.

Pray for Archishop.

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—Every Roman Catholic in New Orleans is offering up prayers that Archbishop Chapelle recover from the yellow fever. The news that the archbishop had the fever spread through the city and was the one topic of conversation here. His condition is very serious, although he is somewhat improved. In spite of all remonstrances, he had insisted on riding through the infected districts daily, and it was in this manner that he is supposed to have contracted the disease. The archbishop is in charge of Dr. Larocque, who is one of the greatest experts on yellow fever in the city. Dr. Guiteras also is attending the case. These physicians are confident that the distinguished prelate will recover, although they admit that he has a typical case.

Both telegrams were signed by Mayor Behrman and the committee appointed at the meeting.

In all the churches of the city Sunday the prayers for the deliverance of the city from the disease were repeated, but there is a feeling of hopefulness among all the people since the government took charge. The fever situation is decidedly better and the fact that but two new foci developed Sunday is considered as decidedly favorable. One of these was in the up-town district, away from all other foci, and the other was downtown.

CONDUCTORS TAKE HAND IN STRIKE

STEEL METAL MEN'S ROLL ON INCREASE

International Alliance Officers Make Encouraging Reports at Washington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, August 7.—Delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada were present at the opening of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance here today. The reports show that the organization has almost doubled its membership since the last convention, and has agreements with employers in most of the principal cities of the countries represented.

INDIAN LANDS ARE OPEN TO SETTLERS

Thirty-Eight Thousand Acres in Minnesota Will Be Occupied by the Pale-Face.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, August 7.—By direction of Secretary of the Interior, Hitchcock, 37,800 acres of Indian lands in Minnesota were today opened to settlement. These lands are partly in the Pond du Lac, Red Lake, White Earth and Chippewa reservations of Minnesota.

ROANOKE TO HEAR SECRETARY SHAW

Cabinet Officer Will Address the Republican Convention There Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, August 7.—Secretary Shaw, who is in great demand as a speaker at present, leaves here tonight for Roanoke, Va., where he will address the Republicans of the state at their convention tomorrow.

Advises Against Worrying.

"Keep your brains for practical things," advised the great statesman. "You will, find you have enough to carry you through the actual work of life, but you will probably find you have none to waste. There are religious, political and social problems enough to convert the wisest man into a madman if he only bothers enough about them."

Health and Liberty in America.

That America is not only the land of liberty, but of health, the survival of so many thousands of Confederates forty years after the closing of the war emphatically tests.—Louisville Courier.

CRIME PERPETRATED DURING CIVIL WAR

Three Skeletons Uncovered by the Razing of a Log House Near Bloomington, Ill.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 7.—A sensation has been created in Iroquois county. While razing a log house which was built on Crape Island, near Momence, before the Civil war, workmen uncovered three skeletons, mute evidence of a triple murder. Old settlers who were apprised of the discovery recalled the circumstances.

A dent in one of the skulls showed how death had been caused. It developed that a trapper named Steele, with his wife and daughter, occupied the house in 1861. In the summer of that year a man named Barrington left his home at Momence with $10,000 to buy beef in Lake county, Indiana, for the United States army. On his way to Hammond he remained over night in Steele's house. That was the last seen of him alive. The next day his horse was found roaming in the valley.

Threatened to Hang Steele.

Suspicion rested upon Steele, but his formidable size and habits prevented an investigation by the few men residing near there. Owing to the swampy nature of the vicinity the inhabitants were scarce.

Steele's wife and daughter disappeared the following year. This aroused the residents and they organized a vigilance committee, called on Steele and led him to a tree, demanding that he confess the crime and threatening him with hanging if he failed. Steele swore that he had never seen Barrington and that his wife and daughter had gone to their old home in Pennsylvania. Convinced of his innocence, his captors released him and the next day he fled, never to be heard from again.

Skeletons Reveal Crime.

The crime as suspected never had a sequel until this week, when the tragedy was revealed by the skeletons. The house deserted by Steele was never again tenanted, save by tramps, and it had the reputation of being haunted. The finding of the whitened bones has started a flood of reminiscences among the oldtimers of the Kankakee valley, and they can now picture the three murders in all their vividness. The Civil war, then at its height, distracted the public mind and small attention was paid in those days to possible murders. Owing to this fact, Steele escaped punishment.

Buy it in Janesville.

BIG ATTENDANCE ONCLOSING DAY

IMMENSE CROWDS VISITED CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS YESTERDAY.

1906 ASSEMBLY IS ASSURED

Many Season Tickets Subscribed For --Strong Sermon by Robert Parker Miles.

Janesville's Chautauqua, the first ever held here, was brought to a fitting close yesterday and announcement made that the Assembly in 1906 was an assured fact. Six thousand people visited the grounds during the day and enjoyed some part of the entire program. The crowds commenced assembling at nine in the morning and during the day numbers came and went. Hundreds were forced by the filling of the seats and quick rental of the four hundred chairs, to stand about the tent to hear the three speakers. The street cars and boats carried capacity loads all day, scores of rigs were tied in the grove and many people walked in and from the grounds. According to Mr. Holbrook it was the largest crowd ever gathered at an Assembly in its first year.

Tickets Subscribed For.

The work of selling season tickets for next season was commenced in order that the program committee might begin immediately to select and book talent, securing the choice of the several lyceum bureaus. Unless plans miscarry Billy Sunday, the great revivalist, who has been awakening thousands to the love of God will be secured for one of the Sunday afternoons. He will doubtless draw one of the largest audiences ever gathered in Janesville. Eight hundred and fifty season tickets were subscribed for in blocks and singly.

Strong Morning Address.

In the morning the sermon was delivered by Robert Parker Miles. His address was one of the strongest on the full ten-day program and with his impersonations and word pictures appealed to every heart in the audience. He spoke on "Made Over People," taking his text from Jeremiah XVIII, 4, "So He made it again as it seemed best to the potter to make it." This is from the story of the remaking of the marred vessel, from which Jeremiah gained his inspiration to remake Israel with the help of God. Dr. Miles portrayed the remarks of John Weller Chapman, on whom the great Moody's mantle fell, he told of a meeting with Fannie Crosby in her humble little rooms in New York city when she was eighty years of age and her eyes were sightless, but she had written eight thousand hymns and had shown many the way to Heaven. He related how his life had been turned from the stage to the ministry. When he came from England to America he imagined that he would become an actor and decided to go to John Gilbert, the great light of the theatrical world, whom he had heard liked boys. He gained an audience but when Gilbert approached Miles fled and from then on his thoughts were turned toward the pulpit.

Audience Sees Execution.

Pictures of the hopelessness of many a life in New York city, where only ten per cent of the people own their homes as contrasted to the ten per cent who do not own homes in the west, were presented through Chuck Connors of the Bowery who appeared in print as Jimmy Fadden, through "The Rummager," and through the vile mouthed littleurchans who swear at the age of three and are condemned cigarette fiends at five. Mr. Miles, as religious editor of the New York Journal ferreted out the great crime of Martin Thorne, who slaughtered his rival and distributed the portions of his body about the metropolis, and in his sermon he pictured the electrocution of that man who had refused to be made over. The audience, not disturbed by a whisper, saw the man conducted to the chair, witnessed the guards bind him hand, foot and head, heard him cry for mercy and attempt to kiss the cross that a priest had placed in hand, then listened to the whir of the electric current and saw Thorne's life snuffed. Thorne did not believe life was worth living but we should learn to trust in God, though we may have to let go some things which we have. We must let our love bubble out as from a well to make better and beautify the world and God makes us over by perfecting our imperfections.

Miss Burch Sang.

But one Janesville person, other than officers of the Chautauqua Association, appeared upon the platform through the full program. Miss Bessie Burch rendered two beautiful vocal solos yesterday afternoon, and her ability to fill the tent without straining her voice or without allowing any deterioration of tones or expression assure her a future success as a singer. Her selections were "Rock of Ages," and "Show Me Thy Ways." Mrs. Georgia Hyde played her accompaniments. Concerts and musical numbers for the morning and evening services were rendered by the Hearons Sisters, Miss Lulu Janes, and Mr. Middleton. Two concerts were also given by the Hearons Sisters in the afternoon. Mr. Middleton sang "Fear Not, Ye O, Israel" by Dudley Buck in the morning, "Judge Me O, God," in the afternoon and "The Lord Is My Light" by Allison in the evening. His accompaniments for these were played by Miss Janes.

and with her he sang a duet in the evening, which more than pleased the audience that had become enthusiastic over each.

A Temperance Lecture.

Miss Marie C. Brehm of Chicago, a far-known temperance lecturer and Illinois state President of the W. C. T. U. delivered the afternoon address. Her words not alone advocated temperance but prohibition and she held her audience well. Miss Brehm said in part, the W. C. T. U. is the largest organization of Christian women that has ever existed and the belief of the society is that the destruction of opportunities, the destruction of men and the destruction of homes through the sale of intoxicating liquors can be stopped and should be immediately by national law. Though the subject of temperance is an old one it comes newly to somebody every hour, possibly with sorrow to a mother, as a blighting of hope to a wife or with pain to a child. The traffic is resulting terribly all over but there are signs of hope for much has been done. In 1903 the high water mark of agitation against the sale of liquor was reached. Two great world conferences were held that year. The Anti-Alcohol Congress at Bremen, Germany, the home of the beer brewers and drinkers and the International convention of the W. C. T. U. at Geneva, Switzerland. In the latter fifty-nine national organizations speaking fourteen different languages were represented and eight thousand Swiss women were organized into the fifty-ninth national association. The anti-alcohol congress discovered that much advance had been made by the temperance advocates in Germany and the greatest speech of the whole conference was delivered by Mrs. Hunt of the W. C. T. U. who represented the United States at the appointment of President Roosevelt. The rural children have been brought up total abstainers. Physiology, showing the evil effects of alcohol, is taught in the public schools. The Emperor has declared in favor of total abstinence in the army, in imitation of the policy pursued by the railroads and big corporations of America, and there are numerous temperance societies. The congress formally declared that alcohol was conducive to tuberculosis and that it was never medicine and always poison.

Reply to Roosevelt.

The American race is threatened with destruction by alcohol and until the nation provides protection from temptation to the boys and girls of the land the women will refuse to hear the plea of Roosevelt against race suicide. France discovered a number of years ago that the death rate was exceeding the birth rate and though she took steps to increase the number of births by caring for every seventh child the trouble was not remedied for four out of every five children died because of low vitality and now the scientists of that country are studying out means of saving the children and through the advocacy of temperance preventing the infant weakness. Miss Brehm presented some statistics to show the terror of the liquor traffic and what has been done in Germany, France, Scotland, England, Austria and even Russia, to stop its ravages.

Illustrated Lecture.

The final number of the Chautauqua was Dr. Grant's illustrated lecture on "Pope Leo and His Palace" or "In Rome with Michelangelo." One hundred and seventy five slides were shown, some colored, presenting the audience with pictures of the Old Roman Forum, the wonderful masterpieces of architecture of the one time capital of the world, and the beauties of St. Peter's Cathedral and the Vatican.

Excellent Musical Program.

Saturday evening's program, furnished by the Hearons sisters, Miss Lulu Janes and Arthur Middleton was an exceedingly delightful one. The Misses Hearons have been playing together since their childhood and their music possesses natural beauty and polish. As an orchestra, a stringed instrument quartet, in combinations and in solos they have won much praise here and on each appearance were recalled, with some selections two and three times. The group of readings, furnished by Miss Winifred Hearons, were unexpected and she scored a hit. Her humorous dialect pieces were received with much applause. Miss Francis J. Hearons' violin solos were among the most pleasing numbers on the program, which was as follows:

Overture.....Suppe Hearons Sisters.

Toreador's Song.....Arthur Middleton.

Violin Fantasy.....De Berrot

Miss Frances J. Hearons.

Stringed Quartet.....Manzanillo Hearons Sisters.

Song, The Return.....Roma

Miss Lulu Janes.

Group of Readings.....Miss Winifred Hearons.

Glassophone Selection.....

Hearons Sisters.

Song, Prince Ivans.....Allison

Arthur Middleton.

Overture.....Southern Alrs

Hearons Sisters.

Solo by Miss Janes.

Miss Lulu Janes, of the Chicago Lyceum Ladies' Quartette, who remained for the rest of the Chautauqua as accompanist, seems to have met every requirement. As first soprano her work was so brilliant that many were anxious to hear more of her musical repertoire. Her accompaniments are faultless. But it is in her work as a soloist that she excels. On Saturday night she sang "The Return," by Roma, and the brilliant quality of her voice was splendidly adapted to that vivacious waltz song. A storm of applause brought in response Bischoff's dulny song "Supposing," and for a second encore she gave "Madcap Marjorie," by Norton. Miss Janes is able to win the enthusiasm of the audience without in the least cheapening her work or marring its musical excellence.

Arthur Middleton, Basso.

True lovers of music await to the treat in store for them in the musical work of Arthur Middleton, basso, at the Chautauqua and were present in numbers to hear his solo Saturday and Sunday. A voice of great compass and depth, and with the true bass quality is strengthened by a commanding personality that can not fail to win favor wherever he appears, is his. He is one of the great acquisitions of the lyceum platform of the past few seasons. Young in years, his work is of such a quality as to give great promise for the future. Next season he appears on the lyceum platform with two great companies: the Arthur Middleton company and is soloist with the Cleveland Ladies' Orchestra.

Robert Parker Miles.

One of the great surprises of the Chautauqua audiences was Robert Parker Miles' lecture Saturday afternoon entitled, "Tallow Dips." A man with the varied experience of a New York journalist, minister and travel, his environments have combined to furnish him the material, the appreciation and the talent for a great lecture—one of the most graphic lectures of the American platform. There was an inspiration, a surge of thought from the first word to the last that carried his audience with him in rapt attention. One by one he brought to view the "Tallow Dips," the lights of the century—which he has met. He spoke and Pope Leo stood before his hearers, a little emaciated man, with a great heart. Gladstone, George Francis Train, each representing a different phase of mental life. Chuck Connors of the New York slums was there, and after it all the audience awoke from a dream. As a painter of word pictures, as a weaver of soft fancies, his talent is marvelous. He is an impersonator with all the talents of a great lecturer—a great lecturer with the best qualities of an impersonator, and is a tower of strength to any program.

* * * CHAUTAUQUA PARAGRAPHS: *

Mrs. Adam Scott of La Prairie attended yesterday.

Mr. W. P. Dooley of Alton, Ill., was Chautauqua visitor yesterday.

James Clark and family of Milton were Assembly visitors yesterday.

Charles Howser and family of M. Ziem spent yesterday at Moles Grove, attending the Assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Athletch of Johnstown attended the Assembly sessions yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Church, Roy Church, Lester Church, Mrs. W. E. Shoemaker, the Misses Coraive Shoemaker and Irma Shoemaker, G. W. Hilton, James Little, Joe Little, Mrs. F. P. Welch and the Misses Alice Little and Emma Little of the town of Jacobsville were among the Chautauqua visitors yesterday.

Frank Otis and family of the town of Rock attended yesterday's sessions of the Chautauqua.

S. Clark of Milton visited the Assembly Sunday.

J. B. Humphrey of Afton attended the Chautauqua yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Estee of Milton were Assembly visitors yesterday.

Miss Bessie Scott, Walter Scott and Eddie Scott of La Prairie were visitors yesterday at the Chautauqua.

J. Bussfield of the town of Rock spent Sunday at the Assembly.

Don Farnsworth of Chicago was a Sunday visitor at the Assembly.

R. H. Howard of La Prairie visited the Assembly Sunday.

Arthur Wiggins of Footville attended the Chautauqua yesterday.

Mrs. E. Vellofson, a teacher in the Milwaukee public schools, was present at the Chautauqua services Sunday.

Elmer Bligham and family of the town of Harmony were Assembly visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reiber of Brothman spent yesterday at the Chautauqua.

William Howell of Center was a Chautauqua visitor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wilcox attended the Chautauqua yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen were Sunday visitors at the Assembly.

The Jansesville Man Who Has Been Acting as Manager for Baseball Team.

Morey Crall of this city has been released as manager of the Oshkosh baseball team, the management finding retrenchment in salaries an absolute necessity on account of the heavy expenses and poor patronage.

John P. Larie, the president of the club, has taken charge of his work. Mr. Crall's work gave good satisfaction and the management was loth to part with him.

Mothers be careful of your children. There is no baby medicine in the world as good as Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It makes the little ones strong, healthy and active.

35 cents. Smith Drug Co.

Morey Crall of this city has been released as manager of the Oshkosh baseball team, the management finding retrenchment in salaries an absolute necessity on account of the heavy expenses and poor patronage.

It is well known the President entertains for his ability and sterling qualities. It is doubtful, however, whether the President would go further than to let it be known that in case a change should be made in the organization, he would be pleased to see Senator Knox selected as the leader. Notwithstanding the powerful influence of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the president of which was one of Mr. Knox's leading supporters for the senate, it is improbable that he could have secured the appointment and subsequently the election to succeed the late Senator Quay had Senator Penrose not heartily acquiesced in his selection. A break between the two would be deplored by Republicans everywhere for both are men of ability. Senator Knox, measuring to the size of Presidential timber, were it not that he hails from an overwhelming Republican state. Senator Penrose has still four years to serve and is chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and a member of the great committees on Finance, Commerce and Naval Affairs, as well as several others, to say nothing of being head of the organization in Pennsylvania. It is not probable the Administration will go out of its way to pick a quarrel with him.

The case of Maryland may be cited as showing that the President prefers to keep his hands off in state organizations. Several years ago Senator McComas and Representative Mudd had a bitter fight. Mr. McComas did not endorse the tactics suggested by Mr. Mudd, with the result that Senator Gorman, regained control of the state and retired both Senator Wellington and McComas. The latter was given a place in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and the entrance of Mr. Bonaparte into the Cabinet was taken as an indication that the latter was to be regarded as the successor McComas as the leader. This did not suit Mr. Mudd, who for years has held his seat in the House of Representatives, notwithstanding all efforts of his enemies in the Republican party and the Democrats to dislodge him.

Being the only man in Maryland who is absolutely dictator in his own district, Mr. Mudd has been a formidable power in state politics. It was therefore no surprise when Senator McComas, having been eliminated, Mudd reached out for the state organization and won his fight for an early state convention by vote of 16 to 7, in the face of the opposition of Rep. Wachter, of Baltimore, the city Chairman of the Republican committee and Collector of Customs. The city leader of Baltimore, Mr. Mudd is quite as much a practical politician as Senator Gorman and should be chosen state leader of the Republican organization.

General Randall's career in the service of his country has been an illustrious one. Born in Conneaut, Ohio, on October 18, 1841, he moved with his parents to Morristown, Pa., while a young man. Twenty years later, in 1861, his father—Brewster Randall—and family came to Janesville to reside on the 20th of April of the same year the subject of this sketch enlisted as a private in Company A, 4th Pennsylvania Infantry. He was made second lieutenant of the Fourth Infantry on October 24, 1861, and was promoted to first lieutenant on the sixth of November, a year later. On Sept. 17, 1862, he received the brevet commission of captain for gallantry and meritorious services in the battle of Antietam. He was brevetted lieutenant colonel of the Volunteers on the 26th of March, 1865, for gallantry in the attack on Fort Steedman, Virginia, and on the 2nd of April, 1865, the U. S. government made him major for gallantry and meritorious services in front of Petersburg, Virginia. In the seven years Gen. Randall participated in a number of Indian campaigns and in recognition of his services in the battle at Turret Mountain, Arizona, on April 22 of the same year, he was commissioned as lieutenant colonel of the Eighth Infantry on Feb. 27, 1890.

Of late years he has been stationed successively in Cuba, Alaska, and the Philippines, serving two years in the northern territory and two years in the far east. After his retirement on October 8 of this year, the veteran soldier expects to make his home in California. Gen. Randall is bold and hearty but Mrs. Randall's health has not been good for the past few years. After retirement the government pays its major-generals $5,025 a year, the salary for active service being $7,500. Gen. Randall last visited Janesville three years ago.

Major General George M. Randall who arrived in Janesville Saturday night for a visit, with his sister, Mrs. C. T. McKeen, at the old Randall home, 56 Roger Ave., left this morning for St. Louis where he succeeds General Wirt in command of the northern division of the U. S. army, the latter having been transferred to the department of Missouri with headquarters at Omaha.

General Randall's career in the service of his country has been an illustrious one. Born in Conneaut, Ohio, on October 18, 1841, he moved with his parents to Morristown, Pa., while a young man. Twenty years later, in 1861, his father—Brewster Randall—and family came to Janesville to reside on the 20th of April of the same year the subject of this sketch enlisted as a private in Company A, 4th Pennsylvania Infantry. He was made second lieutenant of the Fourth Infantry on October 24, 1861, and was promoted to first lieutenant on the sixth of November, a year later. On Sept. 17, 1862, he received the brevet commission of captain for gallantry and meritorious services in the battle of Antietam. He was brevetted lieutenant colonel of the Volunteers on the 26th of March, 1865, for gallantry in the attack on Fort Steedman, Virginia, and on the 2nd of April, 1865, the U. S. government made him major for gallantry and meritorious services in front of Petersburg, Virginia. In the seven years Gen. Randall participated in a number of Indian campaigns and in recognition of his services in the battle at Turret Mountain, Arizona, on April 22 of the same year, he was commissioned as lieutenant colonel of the Eighth Infantry on Feb. 27, 1890.

Of late years he has been stationed successively in Cuba, Alaska, and the Philippines, serving two years in the northern territory and two years in the far east. After his retirement on October 8 of this year, the veteran soldier expects to make his home in California. Gen. Randall is bold and hearty but Mrs. Randall's health has not been good for the past few years. After retirement the government pays its major-generals $5,025 a year, the salary for active service being $7,500. Gen. Randall last visited Janesville three years ago.

Robert Parker Miles.

One of the great surprises of the Chautauqua audiences was Robert Parker Miles' lecture Saturday afternoon entitled, "Tallow Dips." A man with the varied experience of a New York journalist, minister and travel, his environments have combined to furnish him the material, the appreciation and the talent for a great lecture—one of the most graphic lectures of the American platform. There was an inspiration, a surge of thought from the first word to the last that carried his audience with him in rapt attention. One by one he brought to view the "Tallow Dips," the lights of the century—which he has met. He spoke and Pope Leo stood before his hearers,

You are holding "Time's forelock" in one hand when you are writing a want ad. with the other.

Gazette Want Ads.,
Three Lines Three Times, 25c

WANT ADS.

WANTED—Boards at 123 N. Academy St.

WE HAVE—

A large and complete list of city and residential property for sale or exchange at Janesville and other towns in the state.

Several good houses for rent cheap.

Three good hotels for sale or exchange, doing a good business centrally located.

Twenty farms in Rock and adjoining counties, from $200 per acre up. It will pay you to look over our advertisements; we are looking for a farm.

Three good lots at Delavan Lake assembly grounds for sale cheap.

If you have city or farm property for sale, call and see us.

Five per cent money to loan on good real estate security.

MOR SALE—One of the finest modern up-to-date houses in the city. Fine location and on good soil. If you want a bargain, call and see us.

Call or write us, both phones.

SCOTT & SHERMAN,
Fire Insurance, Real Estate and Loans,
21 West Milwaukee Street, Room No. 2 Plus bus block, Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—Machine men and stock sawyers.

First class; an interior cabinet finisher.
Address Mathews Bros., Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A good sturdy horse; must be gentle, so lady can drive. Call with horse at G. H. Clark's, 3 So. Center Avenue, Janesville, Wis., near School for Blind.

WANTED—Young man of 25, wishes a room with private family within six blocks of post office. Address X. G. Gatzert.

YOUNG MAN wants to work, after Valon

Y two's school hours and Saturdays, for a year's experience in general work, and a money order chart and book keeper in U. S.

P. O. Address W. S. E. Gatzert.

WANTED—Driving horse in exchange for high grade up-right animal. Also want a two calendar for cash. Address X. G. Gatzert.

WANTED—Energetic man, not less than business for infant soil, root, etc., Janesville paid weekly; expenses advanced; good man to be had; desired that experience

H. A. Norton, Starbidge, Chicago.

SHOEMAKERS WANTED—Hand lusters on

Geoddyer wats, John Foster Co., Detroit,

Wis.

WANTED—Girl for general housework or house girl. Mrs. L. C. Brownell, Forest Park.

WANTED—Energetic, trustworthy man or woman to manage company. Salary $60 to $100 per month; expenses advanced.

Addition with stamp, J. H. Moore,

Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—I wish to buy a medium sized modern house or building lot, centrally located. Apply, E. R. Gatzert.

WANTED—Girls to operate knitting nu-chines. Lewis Knitting Co., S. Main St.,

Wis.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Liver stock in city. Will take house and lot per month.

House and lot 1st ward..... $3000

House and lot 1st ward..... 1800

Modern house, Washburn street..... 4000

Nice cottage, 2nd ward..... 2000

12-room house, Washburn, 3rd ward..... 3500

12-room cottage, 3rd ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

A good business property..... 8000

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

Nice cottage, 1/2 to 4th ward..... 1800

Modern house, 1/2 ward..... 3500

House well located for boarders..... 2800

House and lot, 1/2 ward..... 1800

House and lot, Forest Park..... 1400

House and 3/4 of land, 3rd ward..... 1800

A house and 4th ward..... 1800

THE JANESEVILLE GAZETTE

Business Office, Open Saturday Evenings.

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wisconsin, as second class mail matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition—By Carrier: One Year $6.00
One Month 50
One Year cash in advance 5.00
Six Months, cash in advance 2.50
Three Months, cash in advance 1.25

Daily Edition—By Mail: CASH IN ADVANCE.

One Year $4.00
Six Months 2.00
One Year—Rural delivery in Rock Co. 3.00
Six Months—Rural delivery in Rock County 1.50
WEEKLY EDITION—One Year 1.50
Long Distance Telephone, No. 77.
Business Office 77-2
Editorial Rooms 77-3

Generally fair tonight and Tuesdays.

he is false to the trust of friendship. The public do not generally know how near Mr. Cooper came to losing the nomination last year. In fact it was so near that had not Chan Ingersoll pleaded with the conservative county leaders he would have been slated for defeat. Mr. Cooper had placed his campaign in Ingersoll's hands and Ingersoll was true to his trust. In the excitement at Madison over the division of the republican convention Mr. Cooper did not state where he stood. Everyone knew where M. G. Jeffris was and the conservative members of the first congressional district delegation begged Jeffris to announce himself as candidate for the office of congressman. It was then that the leaders got together. Chan Ingersoll had been promised the support of the Rock county delegation for Cooper and Mr. Jeffris would not allow his faith to be broken. The congressional convention was held at Monroe and Mr. Cooper was nominated. Had Mr. Jeffris said the word he would have been defeated. Had Ingersoll failed to remind the leaders of their promises Cooper would now be a private citizen. The same men who fought him four years ago are now his so-called friends and the men who have stood by him are to be forgotten. The Racine Journal has sounded the key note when it says fourteen years is a good while for one man to remain in congress. If there is to be a change, and it is hoped there will be, Malcolm G. Jeffris of Janesville is the man for the place. Jeffris is a man of remarkable ability and generalship. At present he is in Europe, far from the scene of the coming conflict, but if he can be persuaded to become a candidate for the nomination it is probable that more than Rock county will support him and with Rock, Kenosha and Walworth behind him he could be assured of the place on the next republican ticket.

H. A. COOPER.
When Congressman H. A. Cooper returns from his junketing trip to the Philippines with Secretary Taft and Miss Alice Roosevelt he may find a state of affairs that he had not appreciated fully before he started on his world girdling trip, as body guard to the Secretary of War. Rumors are ripe that there is dissatisfaction through the first congressional district regarding Mr. Cooper. It is history that Mr. Cooper managed to secure his nomination a year ago by the narrowest margin and that had M. G. Jeffris wished it then he could have had it. Now the sentiment in favor of Mr. Jeffris's candidacy is becoming stronger and stronger. Mr. Jeffris hasn't said that he wants the office, but evidently the people want Jeffris to have the office. The Racine Journal, a Cooper adherent in the past, has the following editorial on the subject that will interest Mr. Cooper's friends and delight Mr. Jeffris.

The announcement that Congressman Cooper is to have opposition for renomination has not elicited much surprise in political circles. When Mr. Cooper has filled out the term for which he was last elected he will have served the First district fourteen years as its member of congress and that is about as long a tenure of office as is usually given, especially in the western states. The republicans of Rock county have been casting wistful eyes at the office ever since the early eighties when Congressman Williams was deposed by John W. Wains of Janesville, and at the time Mr. Cooper was nominated in Beloit in 1892, Mr. Jeffris of Janesville was his most formidable opponent, and it has been suspected that at some time he would openly contest the nomination with Mr. Cooper. Linked with the announcement of Mr. Jeffris's candidacy is the statement that the stalwarts are backing the move as a rebuke to Congressman Cooper for going out of his way last fall in support of Governor La Follette, an evidence of more partisanship. In the heat of the campaign last year, the most bitter that ever has been waged in Wisconsin a great many things were said that were not "according to Hoyle," and perhaps one side to the controversy has as many sins to atone for as the other. Mr. Jeffris is a man of extraordinary ability, and if Rock county sees fit to honor him with its support it should be because he stands the peer of any of its public men, and not because he represents a faction. However it can be pretty definitely stated that if there is to be opposition to Mr. Cooper it will not come from Rock county alone. Usually when there is a move to displace a congressman aspirants for the honor are plentiful, and Walworth and Kenosha counties which have been a part of the district ever since the organization of the state may come to the front with favorite sons.

The Racine Journal might go a little further back if it wished and tell a few facts about Mr. Cooper's first attempt to break into public life in the eighties and tell how Cooper was nominated against Caswell, in the face of strong opposition, by the Rock county contingent. It might also tell the public that in 1892 Mr. Cooper had another fight for his nomination and that the La Follette faction were then allied against him and that had not been for the united efforts of the conservatives of Rock county he would have been defeated. Mr. Cooper may also have forgotten these kindnesses in the past. Dame Rumor has it that he has.

There is waging in Beloit a quiet warfare that will also work its influences upon Mr. Cooper's hold in Rock county. Chan Ingersoll, the present postmaster is liable to lose his office when his term expires. D. R. Worthington, the editor of the Daily News is after the job and Mr. Dowd, another adherent of the administration alleges that Mr. Cooper has promised him the place. Mr. Cooper is between the devil and the deep sea. If he displaces Mr. Ingersoll, the man who has saved him twice from utter defeat, and appoints either Mr. Dowd or Mr. Worthington.

So the administration element in Milwaukee have indicted Charles Pfister. Well if they went to Madison and took up the Capital scandals they could be kept busy the rest of the summer and some time next winter also.

The Madison Journal extols the virtue of McGovern in ferreting out the Milwaukee grafters. The dear editor of the state-grandmother always did enthuse over something or other that sounded theatrical and some one told him was all right.

Governor Davidson has taken the bull by the horns and made his own appointments of the state board "under control." Harvey Clark has gained the place he has so long desired and the administration men are pleased.

Beloit shows about its growth in population, but how about its taxes. It is years since it paid its just assessment of the taxes in the county, yet it grows over adding to its population.

The Chautauqua has closed, but its influences will be felt for many a day to come and the session next year will be eagerly watched and waited for.

Mr. Hoch is not dead yet despite the fact an Indiana paper published a population of only 312,000 she is day before he was to have died on the gallows.

The side lights of a great city always bring into the fore front the sad, sad stories of disgrace and unhappy lives.

Janesville is getting ready for the boom that is to come by placing her streets in good condition.

The price of justice in Chicago is the length of a man's pocket book.

PRESS COMMENT.

La Crosse Leader-Press: The next step in the anti-pass legislation will be to forbid office-holders to ride on the railways at all.

Green Bay Gazette: Now that Milwaukee is officially reported to have a population of only 313,000 she is calling for recount. Of course.

Exchange: It is to be noted, however, that Mr. Edison does not claim as much for that forthcoming storage battery as Keely claimed for his motor.

Chicago Record-Herald: At Patterson, N. J., recently the people prayed for rain and it came. Yet Patterson is said to be one of the most wicked places in the United States.

Chicago Tribune: You may have forgotten that last Tuesday was the day for adding another 10 cents to the price of coal, but the gentlemen with the coal didn't forget it.

Oshkosh Northwestern: As a general rule the only difference between a "club smoker" and a "regality" depends entirely on the class of people who attend the entablissement.

New York Telegram: A noted Hindu is here in the interest of the unification of religion and the establishment of a world faith. Bless his oriental heart. It's here already and is generally known as the dough.

Washington Star: The Cubans have a simple method of solving a difficulty. When they disapprove of

he is false to the trust of friendship. The public do not generally know how near Mr. Cooper came to losing the nomination last year. In fact it was so near that had not Chan Ingersoll pleaded with the conservative county leaders he would have been slated for defeat. Mr. Cooper had placed his campaign in Ingersoll's hands and Ingersoll was true to his trust. In the excitement at Madison over the division of the republican convention Mr. Cooper did not state where he stood. Everyone knew where M. G. Jeffris was and the conservative members of the first congressional district delegation begged Jeffris to announce himself as candidate for the office of congressman. It was then that the leaders got together. Chan Ingersoll had been promised the support of the Rock county delegation for Cooper and Mr. Jeffris would not allow his faith to be broken. The congressional convention was held at Monroe and Mr. Cooper was nominated. Had Mr. Jeffris said the word he would have been defeated. Had Ingersoll failed to remind the leaders of their promises Cooper would now be a private citizen. The same men who fought him four years ago are now his so-called friends and the men who have stood by him are to be forgotten. The Racine Journal has sounded the key note when it says fourteen years is a good while for one man to remain in congress. If there is to be a change, and it is hoped there will be, Malcolm G. Jeffris of Janesville is the man for the place. Jeffris is a man of remarkable ability and generalship. At present he is in Europe, far from the scene of the coming conflict, but if he can be persuaded to become a candidate for the nomination it is probable that more than Rock county will support him and with Rock, Kenosha and Walworth behind him he could be assured of the place on the next republican ticket.

Exchange: A Philadelphia paper has gathered statistics which show that woman's chances to marry between the ages of 25 and 30 are only 18 per cent, while between 20 and 25 the chances in her favor are 52 per cent. Apparently it is rather dangerous to say no to the first man.

New York Tribune: French historians must feel somewhat uneasy over a recent case in the Paris courts. M. de Berlier de Savigny has brought suit against Armand Dayot for alleged defamation of his grandfather, Berlier de Savigny, in his illustrated history of France, in which the said grandfather is pictured hanging from a lampost with the rope around his neck, while the text says he deserved his fate.

Brookfield Independent: Particles from Harvard, Ill., exhibited a weight pumping machine at the Young house on Friday and Saturday of last week. The device was so constructed that water could be pumped by a heavy weight which is suspended in a steel tower. The speed can be regulated to the capacity of the well. When the weight runs down it can be raised by horse power and it is claimed that a fourteen-year old boy can raise it with ease. Besides pumping water it can be used for running a feed mill or corn sheller.

Appleton Crescent: To the casual observer it looks as if the people who provide entertainments and instruction for the Chautauqua gatherings are looking more for speakers who can draw a big crowd than for speakers who can provide useful instruction. We are led to believe they would be calling in Bigelow, who stole nearly two millions of dollars, and Mrs. Beckwith, the woman who swindled bankers out of nearly a million dollars if they hadn't engagements in prison, in the belief that they would draw a crowd. The original plan did not contemplate a circus at the Chautauqua meetings. Time for a reform, isn't it? Ed—yes, but wasn't that Mrs. Chadwick?

Superior Telegram: It is a wise policy to avoid census padding. Five years ago it was not known what city of this state would have the honor of being the second city of the state. Superior had several close competitors and was liable to lose by a close margin that honor. Nevertheless the edict went forth that there must be no padding of the census and public sentiment sustained the edict. The result is that Superior's census of this year shows the legitimate growth that has taken place since 1900, while other cities that have also grown and prospered show little or no progress as compared with the figures of five years ago.

Exchange: Culture is simply the perfect development of the life within. Culture is hopefulness of mind and heart, lightness of touch, depth of insight, freshness of feeling. It has been said that were it not for the children the world would soon grow old. The cultured man is a child in his magical power of seeing things joyously, surprisingly. He retains the delight of the first impression, be it the beauty of a poem or the glory of an art creation or the loveliness of a landscape. To be able to see a familiar object the hundredth time with that same approach of surprise and charm and enthusiasm that you saw it the first time: to see with fresh eyes and feel with a fresh heart is one of the happy and helpful things some carry with them from childhood over into middle life, and a rare and fortunate few even down to old age.

The grievances which such a woman has to tell are inexhaustible. No matter how earnestly she may work for the good of others, she is always sure that no one appreciates her efforts.

The truth of the matter is that she really does nothing at all without largely advertising the fact, and nobody can appreciate self-praise.

The pleasant woman will not worry her husband about what she "loves" and he dislikes, or with music for which he has no ear.

She will not nag because their baby carriage is not quite so nice as the one their neighbor has.

She will not constantly fret over the fact that her friend is better dressed than she is.—Woman's Life.

DYSPEPTIC PHILOSOPHY.

Most of us are as sympathetic as we can afford to be.

There is nothing much more crooked than a dollar mark.

Some people couldn't crack a joke with a sledge hammer.

It's a good plan to keep your heart warm and your head cool.

Life is a hurdle race in which a lot of us jump at conclusions.

Money talks, but its salutation is more often "Good-bye" than "How-do-do."

A philosopher says people might live forever if they would only quit worrying.

No man should invest in a get-rich quick scheme unless he can afford to lose the money.

Those who marry for love are no more proof against disappointment than those who marry for money.

NUGGETS FROM GEORGIA.

We don't learn any more in suffering than many of us are apt to forget in joy.

We play ball with time, when we know that it's only three strikes and out forever.

Life is made up of just "good morning" and "good night," and death, perhaps, is only sleeping late.

The golden street of the hereafter won't have any attraction for some of us. Well, we're so tired when we get there we won't want to do any walking.

It's possible to so accustom yourself to growling that when you can't find anything to growl about you'll send for the doctor and get him to prescribe for you.—Atlanta Constitution.

Buy it in Janesville.

Milwaukee police are keeping their eyes open, and Milwaukee citizens would do well to second their efforts.

RULES OF BEHAVIOR.

Be no flatterer.

Read not in company.

Think before you speak.

Be not tedious in discourse.

Argue not with your superiors.

Let your recreations be manful.

Don't drum with fingers or feet.

Don't pretend to be a physician.

Take all admonitions thankfully.

Let your countenance be pleasant.

Speak not of doleful things at table.

Jest not at anything of importance.

Associate yourself with men of good quality.

Use no reproachful language against any one.

Be not angry at table, whatever happens.

Speak not in an unknown tongue in company.

Be not curious to know the affairs of others.

Be not forward, but friendly and courteous.

Give way to one of greater quality than yourself.

Let your discourse with business men be short.

Tell not your dreams but to your intimate friends.

Distract not from others; neither be excessive in commanding.

Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience.—Philadelphia Record.

LOOK PLEASANT.

It is an easier matter than most women realize to become a thorough-going bore. We have all met such a woman. She will recite for hours at a stretch the troubles—real and imaginary—which she experiences with her husband, children and servants. She will expound upon her own ailments and worry you with a long story of her pains and aches.

The grievances which such a woman has to tell are inexhaustible. No matter how earnestly she may work for the good of others, she is always sure that no one appreciates her efforts.

The truth of the matter is that she really does nothing at all without largely advertising the fact, and nobody can appreciate self-praise.

The pleasant woman will not worry her husband about what she "loves" and he dislikes, or with music for which he has no ear.

She will not nag because their baby carriage is not quite so nice as the one their neighbor has.

She will not constantly fret over the fact that her friend is better dressed than she is.—Woman's Life.

DYSPEPTIC PHILOSOPHY.

Most of us are as sympathetic as we can afford to be.

There is nothing much more crooked than a dollar mark.

Some people couldn't crack a joke with a sledge hammer.

It's a good plan to keep your heart warm and your head cool.

Life is a hurdle race in which a lot of us jump at conclusions.

Money talks, but its salutation is more often "Good-bye" than "How-do-do."

A philosopher says people might live forever if they would only quit worrying.

No man should invest in a get-rich quick scheme unless he can afford to lose the money.

Those who marry for love are no more proof against disappointment than those who marry for money.

NUGGETS FROM GEORGIA.

We don't learn any more in suffering than many of us are apt to forget in joy.

We play ball with time, when we know that it's only three strikes and out forever.

Life is made up of just "good morning" and "good night," and death, perhaps, is only sleeping late.

The golden street of the hereafter won't have any attraction for some of us. Well, we're so tired when we get there we won't want to do any walking.

It's possible to so accustom yourself to growling that when you can't find anything to growl about you'll send for the doctor and get him to prescribe for you.—Atlanta Constitution.

Buy it in Janesville.

Her Parting Shot.

MORTON'S AUTO RAN INTO TROLLEY CAR

Equitable President and His Friends in Serious Accident at New York City.

New York, Aug. 7.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society; Charles H. Kepp, assistant secretary of the treasury at Washington; Mrs. Kepp

MILTON NINE LOST TO RED SOX TEAM

Janesville Boys Put Up a Brilliant Game Before Hostile Crowd at Lake Koshkonong.

In the face of a hostile gallery of spectators numbering 350, the Janesville Red Sox baseball team defeated the Milton nine by a score of 7 to 6 in the game played at Lake Koshkonong yesterday. Features of the game were a lightning triple-play by the 1st, 2nd and 3rd basemen of the Red Sox—Karl, Carle and Bahr—whereby three runners were put out in the twinkling of an eye, and Hall's phenomenal catch after turning two somersaults in the crowd. The Milton team was made up largely of well-seasoned "professionals." While they won the game, the local boys were not satisfied with the treatment they received from both Umpire Vandewalker and the crowd. The line-up yesterday was as follows:

Red Sox: Milton Hill, ss; Rison Schmidt, cf; Kerkoff, B. Karl, rf; Truborn, P. Bahr, 1b; Robinson, P. Schmidt, if; Pierce, W. Carle, 2b; Green, W. Karl, 3b; Fulton, J. Hall, c; Binkie, J. Devin, p; Wildman, E. Biers, substitute; F. Brummond, substitute; Vandewalker, umpire.

REAL GOLD-BRICK FOR MISS FATHERS

Janesville Young Lady Who Visited in Chicago Last Week, Gets Mysterious Parcel by Express

When the expressman called with a goodly sized parcel at the city hall this morning and presented the same to Miss Elsie Fathers with a request for 25 cents charges, she readily paid the fee and commenced to remove the wrapper of the package with high anticipations and no little curiosity. It was about the size of a two-pound box of bon bons. What she uncovered, though, was a gleaming gold brick—literal, not figurative. Along with the shining was a bill of lading from the "Airlift" Office of Streetwalker, Doolittle & Steel of Chicago, in which Miss Fathers was debited with one gold brick at $25. Accompanying the bill was this appeal: "Why remain poor. We have the secret. The Mayor and Aldermen of Janesville have been our steady customers," etc., etc. Miss Fathers visited in Chicago last week for the first time and her friends warned her to pay no attention to explosions on the lake front or deeds of transfer to the Masonic temple.

WERE MARRIED AT SOUTH HAVEN, MICH.

Mr. Henry Decker of This City, and Miss Dorothy Collins of Beloit, Surprise Friends.

Friends of Mr. Henry Decker were much surprised this morning when it was announced that, last Thursday, Mr. Decker and Miss Dorothy Collins, of Beloit, went to South Haven, Mich., where the marriage ceremony was performed that made them man and wife. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Decker, 271 Milton avenue, and is employed as inspector at the Rock County Sugar Company's plant in this city. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. John A. Collins, of Beloit, who was formerly a resident of this city. She is an estimable young lady, and will make an ideal manager of the home where she will reside. The young couple have hosts of friends in the city who will wish them much joy and happiness during their married life. They arrived in the city this morning and will go to housekeeping at once on Milton Ave.

COUNCIL IS READY TO LISTEN TONIGHT

To Property-Holders on Milwaukee Avenue Who Have Objections to Proposed Improvements.

This evening the city council will order an issue of bonds against the property of those who have not elected to pay for the paving on East and West Milwaukee and South Main streets. The bonds run for five years and will probably aggregate about $3,000. The assessment rolls will be presented and the tax levy made. The report of the street assessment committee on the proposed improvement of Milwaukee avenue from East to Harrison streets with macadam and cement gutters and curbing will be received and property holders will have an opportunity to be heard. Bids for furnishing the city with 60 tons of coal will be opened and other timely business transacted.

MAXFIELD A DELEGATE TO RECIPROCITY CONFERENCE

Janesville Attorney Appointed by the Governor as One of Wisconsin's Representatives.

Atty. Harry L. Maxfield of this city has been appointed by Gov. La Follette as a delegate to the National Reciprocity Conference to be held in Chicago on August 16 and 17. Prominent men from all sections of the country will be in attendance and the appointment is an honor appreciated by Mr. Maxfield and his many friends.

RAISING TWO-POUND BABY IN A CHICKEN INCUBATOR

Dr. Rockwell in Beloit has taken charge of a two-pound baby born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zahn of that city and is attempting to rear the infant in a chicken incubator. When born there seemed but little chance that the child would live but it developed such vigor that the physician entertained hopes of its life and the baby seems to be gaining.

Read the want ads.

MANY CRACK SHOTS COMPETING TODAY

Forty-Two Entries in Yesterday's Events—Several Good Scores Expected.

Sunday afternoon the first annual tournament of the Badger Gun Club of this city was held on their grounds south of the city on the Interurban line. The day was an ideal one for shooting and forty-five entered the events pulled off yesterday afternoon. The shoot also includes today's program which was started at 10 o'clock this morning and continued all day. Several of the best amateur and professional shots of the state are present at the shoot and some excellent scores are expected, a summary of which will appear in tomorrow's paper.

FUTURE EVENTS.

Spectacular production of "The Holy City" at Myers theatre, Monday evening, Aug. 7.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT.

Rock River Tent No. 51, Knights of the Maccabees, at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Rock River Hive No. 71, Ladies of the Maccabees, at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Janesville Assembly No. 171, Equitable Fraternal Union, at Caledonian hall.

THE WEATHER.

Temperature last 24 hours taken from U. S. registered thermometer at Helmstreet's drugstore: highest, 86; lowest, 66; at 7 a. m., 75; at 3 p. m., 84; wind southwest; clear and pleasant.

LATE LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

To taxpayers on South Main and East and West Milwaukee streets: The certificates for brick paving can be found at the Rock County National Bank.

A fine race program has been arranged for the T. A. & B. Society picnic at Edgerton next Wednesday, Aug. 9th. The following horses have been entered in the free-for-all: Dumpy, 2:13; Fremont S. 2:15½; Irish Elder, 2:12, and Nicholas J. 2:14.

Ladies' silk shirt waist suits $7.50, worth more than double money at our special clearing sale. T. P. Burns.

The Father Mathew T. A. & B. Society's 23rd annual picnic will be held at Edgerton, Wednesday, Aug. 9th. Special train leaves Janesville at 8:30 a. m. and returns leaving Edgerton at 9:29 p. m.

You can save money on hose, gloves and corsets at our special clearing sale. T. P. Burns.

The 23rd annual picnic of the Father Mathew T. A. & B. Society will be held at Edgerton, Wednesday, Aug. 9th. Rev. A. P. Dunn, of East Claire, one of the finest orators in Wisconsin, will deliver the address.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a business meeting tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Every lady is requested to be present.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY BY A SCORE OF FRIENDS

Pleasant Party Saturday Evening in Honor of Miss Iva Aldrich.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Aldrich on Union street their daughter Miss Iva Aldrich was delightfully surprised by a score of friends Saturday evening. The occasion commemorated the nineteenth anniversary of her birth. The hours were enjoyed past and refreshments served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Lenz, Mrs. Elmina Richards, the Misses Annie Marsh, Carry Marsh, Jennie Schifer, Selma Fariska, Martha Mahss, Clara Mahss, Minnie Mahss, Johanna Mahss, Louise Fay, Jessie Harden, Misses Otto, Zafal, Will Zafal, Will Lenz, Fred Brauer, Paul Lucht, Ernest Truesell, Will Carney and Paul Wollgram.

ACCORDING TO CERTIFICATE THEY ARE NOT YET MARRIED

Hans Jaeko Discovers That Rockford Pastor Dated Paper August 31 Instead of July 31.

Though Hans Jaeko and Miss Meta Henrich stood before a Rockford minister last Thursday and promised to be true to each other as man and wife and two witnesses signed by their autographs that the two were wedded, they now discover that the German errred in his writing and dated the certificate August 31 instead of July 31. Mr. Jaeko did not find the mistake until returning from the honeymoon and now the document will be sent back to its author for correction.

MEN ACCUSED OF MURDER ON RAILROAD TRAIN SATURDAY ARE IDENTIFIED

SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-MORSE

Blooming, Ill., August 7.—The two men accused of the murder of Marion Warner, who was killed on a railroad train Saturday, have been identified as Eugene Pekman and Henry Pekman of Hopatcong. Their father, who resides here, has employed an attorney to defend them.

Rough on Shakespeare.

After a recent bank holiday in London one of the police courts the next morning had among its "drunk and disorderly" prisoners a man who said he was William Shakespeare. "Is that your real name?" asked the judge, "or just your nom de guerre?" "Well, your honor," replied the prisoner, "it is true that I was not christened William Shakespeare, but, you see, I hated to bring disonor and disgrace upon a respected name."

Champion Tract Distributor.

A. E. Eccles of Chorley, England, who has just celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday, claims to be the champion tract distributor of the world. He has circulated no fewer than 40,000,000 publications relating to temperance, hygiene, politics and religion upon a respected name."

PARDON IS GRANTED THOMAS MULCAIRNS

Janesville Man Who Was Sentenced for Inciting Perjury, Released from Waupun on Friday.

Thomas Mulcairns who was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the state prison at the conclusion of his trial last spring on the charge of procuring the commission of perjury on the part of Little Ross Dulin in the O'Donnell-Griffin car robbery case, was pardoned by Acting-governor Davidson on Friday and released. Both Mr. Mulcairns' attorney and his many friends in the city have been active in his behalf ever since he was sentenced. The jury which convicted him as well as the judge were in favor of an early pardon for an offense which was committed out of a mistaken idea of the duties of friendship toward a fellow being who was in trouble. Mr. Mulcairns was employed by the Northwestern railroad up to the time of his trial and had always been a sober and industrious citizen.

CURRENT NEWS NOTE.

Do Beets Exhaust Soil?: J. A. Ducker has threshed six acres of barley for a yield of 429 bushels, or 70 to the acre, on land that has grown two heavy crops of beets.

Had Delightful Day: The local employees of the Northwestern railroad and their friends who attended the big picnic at Fond du Lac returned on a special train at nine o'clock Saturday evening. Thoroughly pleased with their outing and the generosity of the railroad company.

Officer Bear on Vacation: Officer Thomas Morrissey resumed his bear last evening after a ten-day vacation and Officer Robert Bear is now enjoying his leave of absence with Mrs. Bear in Chicago. William Brigham who relieved Officer Morrissey will take Bear's place.

Picnic Postponed: The Loani Band picnic which was scheduled to take place at Idlewile Tuesday, August 8, has been postponed to Tuesday, Aug. 15. Boats leave dock at west end of Fourth avenue bridge at 3:00 and 5:30 p. m. Everyone is expected to bring their own lunch.

Sailor Jean Arrives: Jean A. Krohn, alias Sailor Jean of Boston, arrived in the city this noon from Evansville with his wheelbarrow sailboat. He has traveled 17,000 miles and is at present three months ahead of his scheduled time. He is now wearing his twenty-third pair of shoes, and will end his journey at Frankfort, Ky. He left this forenoon for Akron.

At Methodist Church: Miss Ella G. Richards of Sterling, Illinois, rendered a beautiful solo to the great delight of the congregation assembled in the Central M. E. church on Sunday morning. Miss Richards captivated the people at the Chautauqua also with her sweet, clear and pleasing voice.

Loafers Driven Out: Officer Renke made two raids on the loafers who congregate in the alley back of the Gazette office, yesterday. He broke up one gang of four and another of three in the morning, arresting Tom Nash who was intoxicated, and in the afternoon he gave "Lively" Hanson and Frank Gruber a little dose of bitter-encourager.

Entertained at Banquet: In honor of the Misses Hearons a little banquet was given at the Hotel Myers immediately after the Chautauqua program Saturday evening. Those present besides the guests of honor were:

H. M. Hollbrook, Robert P. Miles, J. J. Cunningham, Rev. Goebel, Miss Goebel, Arthur Middleton, Miss Lulu James, Miss Bourgmeyer, Edward Connell and Henry Cody. The Misses Hearons have engagements for four months in and about New York city this fall and winter.

Is Boehm Rangoon Again?: On complaint of Patrick Carney, a baker, an action to put the defendant under bonds to keep the peace has been commenced against Carl Boehm who was prosecuted on the charge of stabbing Charles Hoffman last fall. Carney complained about someone stealing eggs and Boehm is alleged to have threatened to kill him.

Civil Action on Trial: In municipal court this morning a jury was drawn for the trial of the civil action of Scott & Sherman vs. George Decker.

Dan Skelly Very Ill: Dan Skelly is in a critical condition with brain trouble at his home on Fourth Ave. Friends have been sitting up with him nights for some time past.

Commendable Enterprise: Commendable enterprise was manifested by Manager Fletcher of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. in placing a telephone on the Chautauqua grounds. The extension was made at a loss but the service was appreciated at times when the convenience was almost a necessity.

Chautauqua Tent Stolen: A tent belonging to The Chautauqua Company was stolen from the grounds last evening and up till three o'clock no trace of the missing canvas had been found.

Marriage License: A license to wed has been issued from the county clerk's office to Karl W. Gohrkins of Oberlin, Ohio, and Ruth G. Bedford of Beloit.

Hunting Licenses: County Clerk has commenced issuing hunting licenses for the coming season which ends April 30, 1906. Nine persons have thus far made application.

Baseball Tomorrow: The Business and Professional of the city will try again for honor on the base ball diamond tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park. Dougherty and Earle will be the battery for the Professional men and G. W. Skelly and Hayes will be the battery for the Business men.

For Richardson Medal: Fifteen golfers have already handed in their scores for the qualifying round for the Richardson medal to be played at the golf links tomorrow and it is expected that at least ten more will be in by tonight. Al Schaller will play at scratch and Fred Schaller, A. M. Valentine, Burns, Brewer, Chester Morse and J. P. Baker will have a handicap of 5. Stanley Tallman will have 8, Harry Haggart 10, Ed. Baumann and Charles Gage 12. Frank Field appeared on the links for the first time in six weeks yesterday and made the nine holes in 44 two times.

For Pekman: Eugene Pekman and Henry Pekman of Hopatcong. Their father, who resides here, has employed an attorney to defend them.

Rough on Shakespeare.

After a recent bank holiday in London one of the police courts the next morning had among its "drunk and disorderly" prisoners a man who said he was William Shakespeare. "Is that your real name?" asked the judge, "or just your nom de guerre?" "Well, your honor," replied the prisoner, "it is true that I was not christened William Shakespeare, but, you see, I hated to bring disonor and disgrace upon a respected name."

For Champion Tract Distributor.

A. E. Eccles of Chorley, England, who has just celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday, claims to be the champion tract distributor of the world. He has circulated no fewer than 40,000,000 publications relating to temperance, hygiene, politics and religion upon a respected name."

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Mrs. M. C. Fish, and guest, Miss Richards of Sterling, Illinois, are attending the Delavan Lake Assembly. Russell Zeininger expects to enter Beloit college this fall.

The Misses Mamie Ward and Helen O'Hara of Kenosha returned home Saturday evening after a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Smith on south Main street.

Miss Lenora Westlake left Saturday noon for a two weeks' trip in the east and a visit to Niagara Falls.

H. C. Hinch of the Winchester Arms company was expected to participate in the Badger Gun club tournament here telephoned to the officials of the organization Saturday that he would be unable to come his wife being ill and her serious condition necessitating her removal from home to a hospital.

The Misses Mabel Stockenberger and Elsie Henderson returned to Chicago last evening after a few weeks' visit with friends here.

Miss Emma Bailey of Chamberlain, South Dakota, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of New York city are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Squire Baker.

Mrs. Fairchild of Chamberlain, South Dakota, is visiting here.

Mrs. Fred Feltz has returned from a visit at Edgerton.

Mrs. J. J. Kelly and children who have been visiting at Menominee, Mich., have returned to Janesville.

Miss Harriet Weaver left Saturday for a visit in St. Paul and Winona.

Mrs. James Mills has returned from an extended visit in the east.

The Misses Rand and Schuritz of Elgin are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. Fred Feltz.

Frank Whelock has returned from a fishing trip in the north.

Mrs. J. J. Kelly of No. 5 Chatham street is enjoying a visit from Mrs. George Huff and Mrs. B. J. Conlon of Chicago.

Mrs. H. W. Frick returned Saturday from a visit in Freeport.

Charles Reynolds arrived at Cripple Creek, Colo., on Friday and again remembered his Janesville friends with some very interesting souvenir postal views.

Fred Ehrlinger, writing from Denver, says that he has just returned from a mountain-peak snowball contest with Hugh Craig at an altitude of 11,600 feet. They were off for Manitou on Friday.

Mrs. W. F. Cody of this city and her sister, Mrs. Dickinson of Minneapolis, after

In The Sporting World

Signals of Value In Baseball

Catcher Jack Warner of the St. Louis Nationals Tells How Secret Signs Between Players Aid In Winning Games--The Code.

The use of signals by baseball players makes possible more speed and aggressiveness in diamond work, and some of the most spectacular and dramatic features of the game depend almost entirely upon the signal system for their introduction in the plays.

This secret service of baseball helps more runs out of a rut than many fans think, and the difference between

WARNER SIGNALING FOR "A HIGH ONE." a leader and a tail ender is often accounted for by the success or lack of success in working the signal codes.

Baseball is getting to be such an exact science that brain work on the bench is cutting a bigger factor in the game than many imagine.

Championship teams realize that the small things of baseball are what have to be looked after. They realize that nine innings is a long time and that in a close game a little slip sooner or later may give a chance for victory or defeat.

Jack Warner, the veteran St. Louis National catcher, who has played ball with some of the fastest teams in the country, among them the New York Giants and the Boston champions, recently explained the signals that are used in the big league games.

"The team that does not have an up to date system of signals," said Warner, "is going to lose many one run games. John McGraw of the New York team is a great stickler for 'inside ball,' and when I played with his team I know personally of no less than twenty-two games pulled out of the fire by the use of the signal system.

"Our St. Louis Cardinals have a splendid system—one of the best I have ever seen. Burke realizes the importance of this feature of the game, and many hours in the morning are put in drilling and trying the boys in its use.

"The conchers or batsmen handle all the base signals and hit and run plays, but the battery signals are given by the catcher. The opinion often expressed that the pitcher makes the signals is wrong.

"The usual code comprises signs for a slow ball, a curve ball and signals

WARNER'S SIGNAL FOR AN INSHOOT. for high and wide ones. Of course the various curves—outs, ins and drops, etc.—are also designated by signals.

"If I think a man is going to steal, I signal to the pitcher to 'watch the runner,' or to be prepared for a quick throw to the bag. I try to break up all hit and run games whenever possible by using the 'inside it, wide' sign.

"This sign is also given when I think a man is going to steal. The pitcher keeps the ball outside the plate or just over the corner, giving me the chance to get the ball in a good position for throwing to second."

World of Sport.

George Lyon, Canada's Golf Champion, Again to Invade United States--Gossip.

George S. Lyon, the champion golfer of Canada, was successful in one invasion of America, that of a year ago at St. Louis, and he will soon try his luck against our stars once more. He is now completing arrangements for his trip.

Mr. Lyon, who was defeated in the last British-American golf championship, was born at Richmond, Carleton county, Canada, in 1878, and is therefore forty-six years of age.

Mr. Lyon did not start playing golf until late in life, but took to the game quickly, having been always associated with athletes of some kind or other.

He has three won the golf championship of Canada—namely, in 1898, 1900 and 1903—and also won the Olympic golf championship at St. Louis last September, defeating the American national amateur champion, H. Chandler Egan, in the final of a thirty-six hole match by 3 up and 2 to play.

Mr. Lyon is also a well known cricketer, having played a number of years in the international match between Canada and the United States. He has several centuries to his credit and also holds the Canadian record for highest score ever compiled in Canada—namely, 238, not out. On the occasion of Lord Hawke's last visit to Canada Mr. Lyon had the honor of captaining the Canadian team that opposed the titled Englishman's accompanying players.

The question of the economical side of automobiling was discussed recently when some of the prominent manufacturers met in Boston. In the gathering was Colonel A. L. Pope, who said:

"The general public now appreciates the fact that the automobile can go long distances at a rate of speed from one to sixty miles an hour, while it can be kept in good condition by any average man who will give it a little study. Now comes the matter of economy, which will further develop the automobile to a point where it will carry four or five people over a stated distance at a much cheaper rate per mile than is charged by the railroad.

"At the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than the railroad charges, but the time is coming when motors will be operated with such a small amount of gasoline, lubricating oil and such light wear on the tires

that the present time this rate per mile, as might be expected, is, generally speaking, more than

Over the Border

BY...
ROBERT BARR.

Author of "Jennie Baxter, Journalist," Etc.

Copyright, 1903, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.

CHAPTER IX.

WILLIAM ARMSTRONG rode his splendid black steed like one more accustomed to the polishing of saddle leather than to the wearing out of the same material in the form of boots. Horse and man were so subtly suited, each to each, that such another pair might well have given to some early artist the first idea of a centaur. Armstrong was evidently familiar with the district he traversed, for he evinced no surprise when, coming to the crown of a height, he saw in the valley below him a one storied stone building whose out-houses and general surroundings proclaimed it a solitary inn, but the horse, less self-contained and doubtless more fatigued, turned forward his ears and gave utterance to a faint whinny of pleasure at the near prospect of rest and refreshment. The hand of the rider affectionately stroked and patted the long black mane, as it in silent corroboration of the animal's eager anticipations.

The young man was as fair as his mount was dark. A mass of yellow hair flowed out from under his Scot's bonnet and over his broad shoulders. A heavy blond mustache gave him a semiilitary air, a look of the cavalier, as if he were a remnant of that streak in hand across the border which was fighting for King Charles against next inn afore it gets 'darker all ye're like to lose yer rod amang th' hills.' 'I must get somethin' for my horse to eat. He's done and should not be pushed further. I'll wait outside until their lordships have finished their council."

"Th' stalls are 'a' foul already, an' if not wi' better nags, at least wi' the nags o' noblemen, an' Ah'm thinkin' that's neither you nor me."

"The stalls are 'a' foul already, an' if not wi' better nags, at least wi' the nags o' noblemen, an' Ah'm thinkin' that's neither you nor me."

"Indeed, me brave man, Ah tak' orders fra the yeal himself an' fra none else. Jist ticket yer beast w' th' spur, or Ah'll gie him a jab w' th' point o' this spear."

The descent of young Armstrong was so instantaneous that the man at arms had no opportunity of carrying out his threat or even of leveling the unwieldy weapon in his own defense. The horseman dropped on him as if he had fallen from the clouds, and the pike-stones useless on the rough cobblestones. The black horse showed no sign of fright, as might have been expected, but turned his intelligent head and calmly watched the fray as if accustomed to any eccentricity on the part of his master. And what the fine eyes of the quadruped saw was startling enough. The wide spread flanks of the surprised soldier went

"I'll look after my own beast, Traquair."

"No need for that, Will. We have matters of importance to discuss, and Angus here will feed the horse as well as you can do it."

"I'll eat and drink whatever's set before me and never ask who is the cook, but I trust no man to wait on my horse. You ride by your sentry march, Angus, and I'll see to the beast."

With this Armstrong strode out of the house, the ill used sentinel following him. As the door closed the interrupted hum of conversation rose again. Who the interloper might be was the burden of the inquiry.

"Armstrong's the very man for our purpose," said Traquair. "If any one can get through Old Nell's gates by craft or by force it is Will. I had no idea he was near by or I would never have wasted thought on any other. I have known him for years, and there's no one to match him, liberal or lowhand. We need seek no further if Christie's Will is wullin'." I wish unanimous consent to tender our present dangerous mission to William Armstrong in the hope that he may get safely to Oxford and, what is more important, bring us with equal safety the king's written command. If any of you have some one else to propose whom you think may accomplish his business better than Will Armstrong, I ask you to nominate the man and give reasons for your preference."

Each man looked at the others as if waiting for some one else to make further suggestion, but as the silence was prolonged the earl was about to address the company when the door opened and Armstrong himself entered.

... (To be continued.)

CHICKENS HATCH IN A HAYMOW.

Indiana Farmer Finds a Dozen Lively Chirpers, Abandoned by Mother.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 7.—Elihu Bussard has found that a mow full of new mown hay is a first-class incubator for fowl. Two weeks ago Mr. Bussard, whose farm is near North Manchester, this county, finished putting up his hay and Saturday he was astonished when deep down in the mow he heard the faint chirp of little chickens. He made an investigation with a pitchfork and uncovered a nest in which there had been twelve eggs, but which contained two unhatched eggs and ten little chicks. The hen had been driven off when the hay was stored and the heat of the hay performed the function of the banished biddy.

Low Round Trip Rates Daily to Portland via The North-Western Line.

Account Lewis and Clark Exposition, via direct routes or at slight advance via San Francisco and Los Angeles. Send 2c stamp for illustrated folder and full information as to extensive choice of routes going and returning, with low rate side trip to Yellowstone National Park and Alaska.

Very Low Rates to Detroit, Mich.

Via the North-Western line, for tickets to be sold August 13 and 14, with favorable return limits, on account of Imperial Palace Dramatic Order

Knights of Khorasson. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R.Y.

Low Rates to Detroit and Return Via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Round trip excursion tickets on sale at Detroit, Mich., August 13th and 14th. Limited for return leaving Detroit not later than August 19th, 1905.

Low Rates to Delavan Lake Assembly

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul

railway will sell round trip excursion tickets to Delavan, Wis., August 2nd and 5th. Other dates on certificate plan reduction.

The Fisherman's Special, Chicago & North-Western Railway.

This fast train leaves Chicago at 5:00 p. m. and reaches the fishing and hunting grounds of the North Woods next morning in time for early breakfast. Pullman sleeping car through without change from Chicago to the hundreds of lakes and summer resorts in northern Wisconsin and Michigan. Special low rate ticket on sale daily. For free copy of booklet "The Fisherman's Special" and other pamphlets address, W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., Chicago.

Very Low Rates to Pittsburgh, Pa.

Via the North-Western line. Excursion tickets will be sold August 12 and 13, with favorable return limits, on account Knights of Pythias (Colored) Encampment. Apply to agents

Chicago & North-Western Railway.

Low Rates to Delavan Lake Assembly

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul

railway will sell round trip excursion

tickets to Delavan, Wis., August 2nd and

5th. Other dates on certificate

plan reduction.

Former Legislator a Suicide.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 7.—Harry Haworth, who represented the Fourth legislative district in the state assembly during the session of 1891, was found dying of gas asphyxiation in a hotel room. The coroner called it a case of suicide.

Admiral Clark to Retire.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Rear Admiral

Charles E. Clark, who made the battle ship Oregon famous, and whose name is closely linked with the history of the destruction of Cervera's fleet at Santiago, will be placed on the retired list August 10.

MERCURY WORSE THAN THE DISEASE

The effects of Mercury and Potash are worse than the effects of Contagious

Blood Poison, for which these minerals are generally used. They cannot cure the disease, and in addition set up a poison of their own, producing gypsiness, by drying up the gastric juices, salivation, sores, mercurial rheumatism, and often necrosis of the bones.

Bowling Green, Ky., Mitchell House.

Gentlemen.—For over four years I suffered greatly from a severe case of Contagious Blood Poison, for which these minerals are a great expense. I then consulted physicians, who prescribed Mercury.

Nothing did any good, in fact the treatment proved more hurtful than good.

This caused me to suffer for four years.

I mentioned my case to a friend, who told me that S. S. had certainly cured him. I at once commenced its use, and in six months recovered completely.

This was about two years ago, and there has been no sign of return.

D. M. SANDERS.

S. S., a remedy made from roots,

herbs and barks, is the only known an-tiode for Contagious Blood Poison.

It thoroughly and permanently eradicates

the poison from the blood so that no sign

is ever seen of the disease in future.

S. S. builds up instead of tearing down

the system, as to Mercury and Potash,

and when it has cured the disease every part of the body has been toned up

by its purifying and tonic effects.

S. S. also removes any effects of the mineral treatment from the blood.

We offer a reward of $10,000.00 for proof that

Mercury, Potash or any other mineral

home treatment book and any medical advice will be given without charge,

see Ticket Agt., C. & N. W. Ry. Tel.

153. S. S., a remedy made from roots,

herbs and barks, is the only known an-

tiode for Contagious Blood Poison.

It thoroughly and permanently eradicates

the poison from the blood so that no sign

is ever seen of the disease in future.

S. S. builds up instead of tearing down

the system, as to Mercury and Potash,

and when it has cured the disease every

part of the body has been toned up

by its purifying and tonic effects.

S. S. also removes any effects of the mineral treatment from the blood.

We offer a reward of

$10,000.00 for

proof that

Mercury, Potash or any other mineral

home treatment book and any medical

advice will be given without charge,

see Ticket Agt., C. & N. W. Ry. Tel.

153. S. S., a remedy made from roots,

herbs and barks, is the only known an-

tiode for Contagious Blood Poison.

It thoroughly and permanently eradicates

the poison from the blood so that no sign

is ever seen of the disease in future.

S. S. builds up instead of tearing down

the system, as to Mercury and Potash,

and when it has cured the disease every

part of the body has been toned up

by its purifying and tonic effects.

S. S. also removes any effects of the mineral treatment from the blood.

We offer a reward of

$10,000.00 for

proof that

Mercury, Potash or any other mineral

home treatment book and any medical

advice will be given without charge,

STOPS SPREAD OF THE BAD DISEASE

New State Law Is Strict, But Not Generally Known—Protects the Live Stock.

One of the laws of the state not generally understood by those whom it particularly affects is the act relating to the state live stock sanitary board and its duties and powers in measures taken to protect the health of domestic animals of the state. The old law, passed by the state legislature in 1901, was fairly understood, but at the last session of the legislature it was amended to a considerable extent, and it is now radically different in some of its most important provisions. For instance, the state live stock board has the power to determine and employ the most efficient and practical means for the prevention, suppression, control or eradication of dangerous contagious or infectious diseases among domestic animals, and for these purposes it has full authority to establish, maintain and regulate such quarantine and other measures as may be deemed necessary to effect the object sought. It is provided, however, that in the case of slowly contagious diseases only diseased or suspected animals shall be quarantined, and in case of bovine tuberculosis or anthraxcrosis owners shall be granted the option of retaining the animals in quarantine under such restrictions as the board shall prescribe or of shipping them under the auspices of the board to some abattoir designated by it for immediate slaughter under United States government inspection. In case of such conditions the owner is to receive the net proceeds of the sale thereof and will have no further claim against the state on account of such slaughter.

All claims against the state arising from such slaughter of animals must be made by filing with the secretary of state a copy of the state veterinarian's notice to the justice of the peace and the return of the appraisers to the justice, which notice and return shall be certified by him. If the secretary of state is satisfied that the amount awarded is just and that the owner of the animal slaughtered is entitled to indemnity he will issue a warrant for two-thirds of the amount named in the return; but if the secretary has reason to believe that the appraised value is greater than the real value of such animals, he will pay the owner only such sum as he may deem just, provided the right of indemnity shall not exist nor will payment be made, according to the provisions of the law, in either of the following cases:

"First—For animals owned by the United States, this state or any county, city, town or village in this state. "Second—For animals brought into this state, contrary to the provisions of this act, or where the owner of the animal or the persons claiming compensation has failed to comply with the provisions of the same.

"Third—When the owner or claimant, at the time of coming into possession of the animal, knew or had good reason to believe it to be afflicted with a contagious or infectious disease.

"Fourth—When the animal slaughtered was diseased at the time of its arrival in this state.

"Fifth—When the owner shall have been guilty of negligence, or has wilfully exposed such animals to the influence of a contagious or infectious disease.

"Sixth—When the animal slaughtered shall have been brought into the state within one year prior to such slaughter, unless the owner or person in charge shall produce the certificate of a duly qualified veterinary surgeon who is a graduate of a reputable veterinary college, issued within ten days of the date of importation showing such animal to be free from tuberculosis at the time of its arrival in the state."

Ice Cap Belt Recedes.

Since the first visit to the ice cap of the South Pole was made, some fifty years ago, there has been a steady recession of the belt of some thirty miles, and it is argued that in the course of time it will be possible to make approach to the pole itself, and that the land in that vicinity may even become inhabited.

Hailstone Lore.

Oregon modesty came to the front with hailstones the size of cherries. Now Algeria goes one better with hailstones the size of hens' eggs, which devastated a territory 120 miles long by six wide.

CHICAGO MARKETS

HAMMOND ELEVATOR CO. From Everett & Gibson, Brokers, 204 Jackman Block, Janesville.

CHICAGO: August 7, 1905.

Open High, Low. Close.

WHEAT—

July..... 835 14 853 21 824 81 91

Sept..... 845 14 857 21 848 81

CORN—

July..... 525 14 53 525 14 58

Sept..... 45 14 454 45 45 45

OATS—

Sept..... 234 14 275 20 264 20 105

DOGS—

Sept..... 274 14 275 20 264 20 105

PORK—

Sept..... 1365 67 13 90 13 01 13 01

OCT—

13 45 13 82 13 45 13 45

LARD—

Sept..... 7 50 7 55 7 50 7 50

MEAT—

Sept..... 7 57 7 62 7 57 7 57

RIBS—

Sept..... 8 12 8 22 8 10 12 8 20

SEAS—

Sept..... 8 20 8 30 8 17 20 8 21

CHICAGO CAR LOT RECEIPTS (Wheat)

To Day, Contract Est. To Day

Wheat..... 191..... 71..... 329

Corn..... 241..... 78..... 400

Oats..... 408..... 180..... 530

Bucks..... 2000..... 2000..... 2000

NORTH-WEST RECEIPTS (Wheat)

To Day, Last Week Year Ago

Minneapolis..... 16..... 26..... 26

Duluth..... 35..... 35..... 35

Chicago..... 1000..... 1000..... 1000

Live Stock Market

RECEIPTS TODAY

Chicago..... 8000..... 10000..... 8000

Kansas City..... 5000..... 5000..... 5000

Omaha..... 3000..... 4000..... 3000

Omaha..... 1000..... 1000..... 1000

Cattle closed weak.

Lights..... 5 1000 5 1000 5 1000

Minneapolis..... 5 1000 5 1000 5 1000

Hoosier..... 5 1000 5 1000 5 1000

Cattle closed strong.

Sheep closed steady.

Although it would seem almost superfluous to give such advice, yet, when one sees the uncomfortable position in which some babies are forced to lie while nursing, it is found necessary to say that the child must be held in an easy and comfortable position, and the nipple placed within easy reach.

Some infants are born with a cleft lip. Such cannot well be nursed at the breast, as they cannot form the necessary vacuum for drawing the milk into the mouth. There are cases where they cannot even nurse from a bottle, and must be fed by gavage or with a spoon. In case artificial feeding is found absolutely necessary, then there are two essential principles that must be observed: First to seek, by modifying cow's milk, to secure a food as nearly as possible resembling human milk; or, second, to adapt such prepared food as one is able to obtain to the state of condition and environment of individual cases. I have heard many mothers say that a certain kind of prepared food agreed perfectly with her child, but in the case of one of her neighbor's children it not only seemed to be of no value, but to be positively injurious. In following the older methods of artificial feeding, the plan was to force the child to adapt itself to the food, but the later and more scientific method is to adapt the food to the child.

CLUB NOTES.

If Mrs. H. E. of Sisseton, S. D., and Mrs. J. H. Mayen, Ore., and B. B. of Milwaukee, will write again giving their full name and address, I will cheerfully answer their questions.

Wyoming.—Dr. David H. Reeder, LaPorte, Ind.—Dear Doctor: We read your weekly lectures and answer to Club Notes, and receive many valuable hints on health. You say you would like to have us write and tell you of anything we know of that will help the sick ones. I will tell you of a cure I found last winter for sweating feet. It is to drink three tablespoonsfuls of good, strong, home-made vinegar once a day for a week or ten days. If the vinegar is too strong, weaken with water and sugar. One of our sons has had asthma for several years, and has taken a good many different methods of treatment, without satisfactory results. But nothing has helped him so much as inhaling the fumes of boiling vinegar. One nostril was so stopped up that he could not breathe through it, but the fumes of the vinegar helped that, so now he has no trouble with breathing through that nostril, and we believe it will cure him entirely of his trouble.

Now I will tell you of a cough cure that I have never known to fail. Take equal parts of turpentine, kerosene, olive oil and spirits of camphor, put in a bottle, shake well before using. When the patient goes to bed, let some one take some of this liniment in the hand and rub it over the lungs, across the chest, and up and down between the shoulder blades. It is also good for backache when rubbed across back where the pain is. I trust that these home remedies will aid some one who is in need of them, as I know they are good and tried remedies. Very truly yours, Mrs. A. C.

I thank you most heartily for your contribution to Club Notes. The remedies suggested are excellent, and are also perfectly harmless, and I trust many will be benefited by their use. Any such contributions are always thankfully received, and I would like to see all the readers send in their mite.

Colorado City.—Dr. David H. Reeder, LaPorte, Ind.—Dear Doctor: I have been an interested reader of the Home Health Club, and enjoy your weekly lectures very much. I would like your advice in regard to my case. The doctors here tell me I am suffering from cirrhosis of the liver. What is it, and where are they cure for it? This winter I had a very bad spell of sickness, with severe pain in the right side, almost killing me. It seemed to be in the region of the gall duct. I feel very much worried about it, and would like to know your opinion. Very respectfully yours, H. M.

Cirrhosis of the liver is generally known as "hob-nailed liver," and is the result of chronic inflammation of the connective tissue of the liver and destruction of the secreting cells of that organ. It is slow in developing, and gives rise to various functional disturbances. Indigestion, heartburn, belching, coated tongue, constipation, and occasional vomiting are prominent signs. The liver gradually diminishes in size and the skin becomes first pale, and then decidedly sallow, dry and harsh. Strength and flesh are lost rapidly. The abdomen becomes distended, and tremors are apparent. Difficulty of breathing and palpitation and hemorrhages from the bowels occur in advanced stages.

Tea, coffee, alcohol and spices must be forbidden. The patient should not be allowed to become constipated. Hot fomentations as advised in the club lectures for inflammation of the liver should be applied when there is pain.

The vegetable herb remedy which I have often mentioned in Club Notes would be excellent for a tonic. The diet must be very light, and bathing frequent. An abundance of fresh air should always be allowed. However, you should first of all adopt the specific directions which I gave you in a private letter, which will, I believe, arrest the progress of the disease and restore you to good health.

All readers of this paper are at liberty to take No Chances.

"There is one question I want to ask you dear," said a pretty girl as she toyed with her diamond ring. "When we are married will you expect me to bake my own bread?" "You can do as you like, my darling," he replied, "but I shall certainly insist upon your not baking mine."

Want ads bring results.

LAMONT'S ENTERPRISE

The Achievements of a Former Cabinet Minister.

DISPLAYED TAUT AS A POLITICIAN

White President Cleveland's Private Secretary He Littered the Office Almost to the Dignity of a Cabinet Position—Changed He Made at the White House—His Services as Secretary of War.

The late Dan Lamont, Grover Cleveland's private secretary, is better remembered in Washington than Daniel Scott Lamont, the secretary of war, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Post. Before Lamont's day the president's private secretary was concerned solely with routine business, the disposition of mail, replying to unimportant correspondence and the making of appointments for his chief. Mr. Lamont, during his tenure of the office, to some extent made it an added cabinet position. His personal influence with Mr. Cleveland was on a par with that of any one of the seven counselors provided by law.

Mr. Lamont was a perfect complement for his chief. He had tactfulness, untiring politeness, the widest acquaintance with public men of any man of his day, an astute, acquisitive mind, a personal poise that could not be disturbed, and a temper that was never ruffled. The personal impression that Cleveland made on the country during his first four years in the White House was largely due to Mr. Lamont's suavity and diplomacy. He mirrored his chief to the public as he would have him appear; not wholly as he was. The angles were blunted and the rough sides made smooth. No one recognized more than Mr. Cleveland how much of his popularity was due to his efficient private secretary.

Mr. Lamont's newspaper training stood him in "excellent service. He knew the limitations of the correspondent's work, the meaning and value of news, the difficulties with which it was gathered, the importance of accuracy and the vital necessity of writing accounts of events while they were fresh. He was democratic and helpful, he knew men and affairs and how much to tell of all the "inside" events that came under his eye or of which he had, because of his position, first hand knowledge. He made the White House a source of accurate, fresh, valuable information such as it had never been before, and he was in the best sense of the word what Mr. Cleveland never became—a "politician."

Commentators on public affairs in Washington who had known private secretaries under other presidents were so amazed and delighted at the changes Mr. Lamont made at the White House and so appreciative of the public value of his services that some of them to this day are inclined to call him "the brains of the first Cleveland administration." This, of course, is an exaggerated estimate, but it will serve to show how striking an impression the new private secretary made on men who were not accustomed to losing their tongues in praise of public officers unless tribute was eminently well deserved. Here is a description of him, written "off the griddle," so to speak, in the days when he was new to the capital:

His private secretary is Daniel S. Lamont, a wonder. He is a small but strong man of thirty-six, with a high forehead and a mustache. He has a modest personal appearance, dresses very neatly, and there is no man in New York state, not exceeding Samuel J. Tilden, who has a larger acquaintance with prominent Democrats. He is honest, knows a man at a glance, and the moment any one comes into Cleveland's office he can tell what his business is. He stands to his chief by a nod of his head what he thinks of the request about to be made. He never loses his head, has been with politicians all his life and yet has the most exemplary habits. He never smokes and never swears. He is of slight stature and does not at first command the attention to which his abilities are entitled.

A sketch of Mr. Lamont, written in 1881, bears the caption "The Pleasant History of a Pink of Politeness." In 1882, when Mr. Lamont was a nominee for the clerk of the New York senate, he had already developed a modesty, a merit and an organizing and working capacity which had won for him the respect, the regard and the confidence of all who had been brought into relations with him. He had made his mark so deeply at Albany that when Mr. Cleveland became president it was taken for granted that his private secretary would accompany him to Washington. One who knew him in the Albany days contributes this glimpse of the methods that made Mr. Lamont so widely known after he reached Washington:

"In the executive chamber he always got up to receive visitors, and his universal knowledge of public men at Washington again held good. He saw every one coming in at the distant door and spoke their name to the governor, who was quick to hear. So when Smith of Wayback came in and said, 'You don't remember me, governor, I am afraid,' the governor promptly responded:

"'Oh, yes, I do, Mr. Smith. How are the folks in Wayback?'

"When the governor wrote his famous personal comfort letter about Gladys he handed the copy to Lamont and said, 'Dan, I'll wager you a dollar you would not write a letter like that.'

"Dan read it and fired up: 'I certainly wouldn't, governor. It is not for me to do good, and it will put you in a bad light. It is influencing elections, and that is not right.'

"The governor laughed. 'You almost persuade me to be a—What is the expression?' he said.

"I wish it was politician,' replied

DR. B.—

"But as we all know, the governor sent the letter."

Mr. Lamont took so prominent a part in the presidential campaign preceding Mr. Cleveland's election that a New York city newspaper felt constrained to ask in its editorial column, "If Cleveland is elected will he be Colonel Lamont be president?" Colonel Lamont used to tell how he came to Washington with Mr. Cleveland. On the morning after election he casually remarked to the governor that, judging from the returns then in, he seemed to be elected. "Well," said Mr. Cleveland, "if I am elected, you are elected. I must have you with me if I go to Washington." That was all that was said about the matter.

One peculiarity that his intimates often commented upon while he was in Washington, and which has recurred to their minds vividly because of the manner of his death, was his keen distaste for being left alone. He always contrived that some one should be in the office with him at every minute of the day. No one ever saw him take a walk of even two or three blocks unaccompanied. If, when it came time for him to leave his office, no one else was ready to go he would wait for one of the clerks. After he became Secretary of war and while his family was out of town he used frequently to drop in at the White House in the late afternoon and get one of the young executive clerks, whose company he enjoyed, to go dinner with him at a hotel. He never said why he always showed such scrupulous care to avoid being left alone.

One of the first things Mr. Lamont did as secretary of war was to weed out a lot of worthless clerks in his department. Six were discharged and fifty reduced in grade and pay in one day. Another incident that army officers are fond of recalling occurred in 1885:

Senator Harris of Tennessee was in Secretary Lamont's office when Paymaster General Stanton entered and began his explanation of the financial condition of the service, referring particularly to the lack of funds for the month of June.